REGESH REVIEW 2026

D'VAR TORAH

This week we begin, Chumash number five,
The words Moshe said, the last five weeks of his life.
"Devarim" means "words" - that are usually tough,
It's an interesting description for Moshe's words of love.

The truth is, says Rashi, they were tough words of rebuke.
And the name Devarim certainly isn't a fluke.
Yet Moshe spoke these words, that had to be said,
Gently and respectfully, to the Jews that he led.

As Tisha B'av approaches we painfully recall,
The sin that made our Beit Hamikdash fall.
Sinat Chinam – simply, not being nice,
The Mikdash fell once - this made it fall twice.

We don't look the same, we're all different from each other,
But remember each Jew is our sister or brother.
Whether we agree all the time, or practically never,
There's a Torah way to speak; a worthwhile endeavor.

Let's keep the dignity intact of each Jew that we meet
Our friends, our parents, or someone on the street.
No Loshon Hora and careful speech,
Will bring us closer to seeing Yerushalayim, finally complete.

Shabat Shalom
